Managment Fees

Aged Care Providers must charge care management and package management fees that are set by them but which are capped by the government. They are essential components that recipients need to understand.

Care Management is a mandatory service that includes regularly assessing your needs, goals and preferences. It includes the creation of a home care agreement, budget and care plan. Your provider must ensure that the care and services provided align with your care plan and other supports. It includes organising, rostering and scheduling your services at the days and times you need them and ensuring that the care and services you receive are safe. Your provider must also identify and mitigate any risks to your safety, health and wellbeing.

Package Management fees are charged by your provider and cover the costs associated with managing the financial aspects of your Home Care Package. These fees typically include managing your budget, processing invoices from service providers, handling payments, providing financial statements, and ensuring compliance with relevant national regulations including the Aged Care Commission.
